NEAL BARTON OF URBAN LIFE MANAGEMENT RESTAURANT GROUP RAISES OVER $15,000 FOR NATIONAL CHARITY

ORLANDO, Fla ... HUE Restaurant General Manager Neal Barton has raised over $15,000 for the AIDS/HIV SMART Ride benefiting the HUG-Me program.

For the SMART Ride, bike riders travel more than 165 miles over two days from Miami to Key West. Over the past few years, the organization has contributed more than $1.8 million to a select group of six AIDS/HIV charities throughout the state of Florida.

Neal Barton chose the HUG-Me program (to be the recipient of his donation (Help, Understand and Guide-Me). It is a program of the Howard Phillips Center for Children & Families and Arnold Palmer Hospital for Children, and is dedicated to improving the quality of life and health of individuals, families and communities in Central Florida infected with or affected by HIV/AIDS. The program provides a diversified, culturally-sensitive and comprehensive network of healthcare services for individuals coping with HIV/AIDS.

HUE Restaurant is part of the Urban Life Management Restaurant Group that focuses on bringing contemporary and unique dining concepts to Downtown Orlando. Neal Barton has been the General Manager of HUE Restaurant since its opening 2001. The company and its principals, Phil Rampy, Craig Ustler and Rob Scheiwiller, are widely credited with reviving the downtown dining scene and their concepts have received numerous culinary and design awards. Other Urban Life Management restaurants include Cityfish Restaurant and Citrus Restaurant.
